Autumn 2023

From your Priest-in-Charge

Dear Friends,

Our Seasons are changing once again. We now begin to move into what I would call the taking stock and remembering season. The Indian Summer, recently experienced, fooled us into thinking that summer was still with us, but now the Autumn chill begins to take over. We see the beautiful colours of the season as the leaves are slowly shed from the trees and the evenings draw in.

In marking the changing seasons we pause to take stock of all that God has given and done for us, doing this through celebrating Harvest.

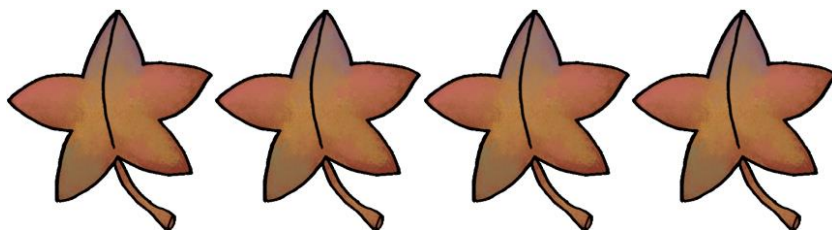

This will take place this Sunday 1st October. We encourage those who can, to join with us in celebrating this feast bringing gifts of non-perishable food items as tokens of God's generosity to us.

These will be taken to St Salvador's Food cupboard and the Angus Foodbank. There will also be a time for fellowship afterwards, over a warm bowl of soup.

At the end of the month we will begin the time of remembering as we pause to remember our lost loved ones during All Souls', followed by those who paid the ultimate price for our peace and security at Remembrance day. We end November with our AGM as we report on what has happened through the year and prepare for the next.

Please keep an eye on the Newsletter for further events as they unfold.

Blessings,
Rev Martin.
